President's Corner

Уважаемые коллеги!

В конце каждого учебного года Международная школа завтрашнего дня проводит Олимпиаду для учащихся школ стран СНГ и Балтии. В этом году мы выбрали новую площадку — дом отдыха Покровское. Думаю, что не ошиблись. Участники уехали с позитивным зарядом и яркими впечатлениями.

После каждого такого события задаешься вопросом: всё ли получилось? Приехали более двухсот пятидесяти человек из разных стран. В том числе наши коллеги и дети из Казахстана. Тема года — «Изменяя жизнь к лучшему». Что мы смогли сделать, чтобы это произошло?

За неделю до нашей московской олимпиады удалось побывать в Мексике, в местечке Керетаро. Вокруг — пустыня, много кактусов, жаркая весна, похожая на разгар московского лета, и восемьсот учащихся мексиканских школ. Подобная олимпиада и та же самая тема — «Изменяя жизнь к лучшему». Коллеги из-за океана увидели возможность что-то изменить — через сострадание. Вспоминали притчу о добром самарянине (От Луки 10). Если бы мы могли не только словом, но и делом проявлять свою любовь к ближнему...

В Подмоскovie дети соревновались в разных номинациях. Как и на всех олимпиадах: в США, в Австралии, в Великобритании, на Филиппинах, в ЮАР, в Канаде, в Сингапуре.

Поднимались на сцену, преодолевали страхи, помогали друг другу. Вечером приходили на вечерние собрания. Делали театрализованные презентации своих школ. Завершающим аккордом каждого вечера была короткая сценка. Как один акт в спектакле. Про детей. Таких же, как они. Желающих стать звездами YouTube, но, в конце концов, принимающих решение отказаться от материальных амбиций и «медных труб». И просто сделать что-то доброе и значимое для тех, кто живет рядом с ними. Пусть небольшое дело, но которое бы изменило чью-то жизнь.

Каждая школа привезла домой медали и положительную энергию. Коллеги ещё долго писали в группы в WhatsApp, насколько они благодарны за этот опыт. Значит, что-то получилось. И пусть этот мир станет хоть немного добрее! Пусть в нём будет чуть больше любви и заботы! Пусть мы будем ближе к Богу!

Думаю, что сегодня мы готовы сделать следующий шаг — вместе с нашими коллегами организовать и провести подобные олимпиады — фестивали в Эстонии, в Украине, в Казахстане, в разных городах России. Возможно, пригласить на эти фестивали и детей, не связанных с программой Школы завтрашнего дня. Это уже получается у гимназии №94 города Екатеринбурга.

Май месяц выдался холодным. Получился оксюморон: горячая пора — окончание учебного года, а за окном — снег и дождь. Конечно, с выглядывающим время от времени из за облаков солнцем. ЕГЭ, ОГЭ, летние заботы по ремонту и приведение в порядок школы...

А в августе — тренинг для руководителей школ и педагогов. Вторая неделя.

Это уже традиционно. Такая небольшая «встряска» перед началом нового учебного года. И, конечно, заряд положительных эмоций. В Международной школе два года назад появилось новое подразделение — Школа Ольги Леонидовны Соболевой. Одна из основ её методики — опора на деятельность правого полушария: эмоции, переживания, подсознательное вовлечение в процессы познания и творчества. Нет, мы не изменили кардинально формат тренинга. Однако осмыслили по-новому его эмоционально-нравственную составляющую. Важно, чтобы после него хотелось бежать в школу к своим детям. Это получается.

Саблина Мария — ещё одна выпускница. У каждого из нас есть своя миссия. Каждая школа заявляет о своих приоритетных направлениях. Важно не забывать, ради чего и ради кого мы занимаемся двуязычным образованием на христианских основах.

Самолёт поднимает меня над Москвой, и вот уже как четыре часа я лечу в направлении Нью-Йорка. Пункт назначения — университет Индианы в штате Пенсильвания. Там через два дня начнется Международная олимпиада Школы завтрашнего дня. Команда Международной школы вылетела туда на два дня раньше. Кто-то из этих детей возьмет новую высоту. Кто-то испытает горечь поражения. Но каждый поймет, как сильно его любит Бог. Что-то изменится к лучшему. В этом мире станет больше света!

Дорогие коллеги! С окончанием вас учебного года! Скоро отпуск. В жизни нужны паузы. Они позволяют увидеть жизнь в новом свете, творчески переосмыслить настоящее, заглянуть в будущее. Наберитесь этим летом свежих сил и новых впечатлений! Благословений и много солнечных дней!

Леонид В. Столярчук

Учредитель и директор Частного учреждения общеобразовательной организации Международная школа завтрашнего дня.

Координатор Школы завтрашнего дня в странах СНГ и Балтии.

Доктор информатики и менеджмента МАИИБ.

Вице-президент Ассоциации некоммерческих образовательных организаций России.

Но и не без новшеств. Тренинг разделён на три модуля: методика обучения дошкольников и учащихся начальной школы, технология работы с учащимися средней и старшей школы; и для руководителей — организация двуязычной и трехязычной школы. Пытаемся внести новизну в стандартный тренинг Школы завтрашнего дня.

Осенью, в октябре месяце, пройдёт, как обычно, осенняя конференция. Надеемся, что вы откликнитесь и придете. Стараемся сделать так, чтобы она добавила в арсенал каждой школы положительный опыт. Опыт, как утверждают психологи, невозможно поделить. Его можно только приобрести. На своих собственных ошибках, пройдя самостоятельно этот путь. Но этих ошибок может быть меньше. Если услышать тех, кто уже попробовал делать то, что собираемся делать мы.

В этом году в первый класс пойдет мой самый младший сын. Две его старшие сестры — Юля и Лера, и старший брат Алексей — выпускники Международной школы завтрашнего дня. Отучились здесь с первого по одиннадцатый класс. В сентябре на работу в школу придёт

Закончилась Региональная олимпиада школьников

С 27 по 31 марта 2017 года Международная школа завтрашнего дня провела на базе дома отдыха «Покровское» двадцать первую Олимпиаду школьников по программе Школа завтрашнего дня. В ней приняли участие около 250 учащихся, учителей и гостей из Москвы, Владимира, Кишинева, Шымкента. Как всегда многочисленной и многонациональной была команда Международной школы завтрашнего дня.

Эта неделя запомнилась всем не только различными мероприятиями, но и улыбками, теплотой и радостью общения.

По итогам всех соревнований были определены победители во всех номинациях, а самые лучшие участники получили звание Мальчика и Девочки конвенции. В младшей возрастной группе ими стали Орхан Гаджиев (гимназия «Байтерек», Шымкент, Казахстан) и Айялаби Бекманали (гимназия «Арман», Шымкент, Казахстан), в старшей возрастной группе — Ле Джиа Бао Хан (Международная школа завтрашнего дня, г. Москва) и Нго Вьет Туан Тунг (Международная школа завтрашнего дня, г. Москва).

Поздравляем всех победителей и ждём новой встрече на Олимпиаде школьников по программе Школа завтрашнего дня в 2018 году!

Tips for the Tough Tasks - Math and Science

Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed II
Timothy 2:15

Satisfaction comes from learning how to do something ourselves and then successfully doing it. A workman who does not need to be ashamed is a person who faithfully does what is required and more, so that when he looks over what he has done, he has no reason to be embarrassed. Here are some tools to help students learn to complete tough tasks in math and science themselves.

I. Applying oneself and persistence equals success in math.

A. In all levels, the task of math is the task of a good workman.

B. Math success is driven by persistence. Encourage students to keep at it.

C. Math requires a step-by-step approach. Mundane? Perhaps. Necessary?

Absolutely!

II. Basics are critical.

A. Build "precept upon precept." It is vital that students understand each building block completely. Drill the basic functions until solid mastery is achieved.

B. Follow methods and procedures. Procedures must be memorized from the beginning. Simple routines and terminology must be learned before advanced routines and terminology can be learned.

C. Reap fewer future problems. Failing to master basics may allow students to "get by" in the lower levels, but more complex multi-step problems can lead into major, test-failing problems.

III. Categories of math problems.

A. Conceptual. Students don't understand the "idea." This is the easiest to fix. Use manipulatives to help them understand.

B. Algorithmic. Algorithmic problems are problems with the method of solving the problem. An algorithm is a step-by-step procedure, similar to using a recipe to bake a cake.

C. Technical. Technical difficulties are really personal habits stemming from a lack of self-discipline that need to be corrected. They cause most of the difficulties math students have and lead to long-term math problems; yet, we spend the least time fixing these problems. Neatness does count.

IV. Provide a "Learning Center" calculator for 7th level and thereafter, unless noted otherwise on the Goal Page. Use should be permitted only after student has demonstrated competence in manual computation skills.

V. Method not dependent on numbers used. Students have difficulty understanding that the method doesn't depend upon the numbers involved. Students must understand that following the method will handle the difference in numbers. Once a student learns how to solve a category of problems, he can use that method to solve all problems in that category. He can then concentrate on the higher level question of "in which category is this problem?" This is critical thinking.

VI. Shortcuts are not shorter. Students who can solve simple problems easily will often have trouble with complex problems because the students are used to taking shortcuts rather than using a robust methodology. Others fail to see the example as an example of a category of problems and do not transfer the method to different but related problems.

VII. Answers should be checked. It's particularly important as multi-step problems appear that substitution and reversing the process be used to check almost every problem.

VIII. Units are important. This is true for math and science. Units tend to be added at the end of the problem as an afterthought rather than pulled through the method with the numbers. The result is that many mistakes, which could be caught by paying attention to units, are not caught. Require units be pulled through the entire problem and count the problem wrong if they are not.

IX. Distractions are a "No-No." Encourage parents not to allow their children to watch television or listen to certain kinds of music while completing homework. Mathematicians, almost without exception, have noted that the best environment for doing difficult math problems is either a quiet place or using baroque music, such as that of Bach, Vivaldi, or Handel. This is because baroque music is orderly and is without attention-grabbing climaxes. You might consider playing such music in your Learning Center.

X. "Reality check" is required. This is especially important in science. As problems grow more complex, they begin to have more and more relevance to the world.

XI. Math is a "toolbox."

A. Right "tools" reduce math anxiety. Multiplication is simply a tool that speeds up addition. Various tools actually make solving problems easier. This is what the higher math tools do - they make problem solving easier. Help the students understand that they are filling a toolbox with tools.

B. Know which "tools" solve which problems. The math student needs to keep his toolbox organized. Know what tools are available and what types of problems they solve.

C. Confirm that reference tools are accurately completed, such as note cards, notebooks for formulas, or the Personal Geometry Handbook. These become the student's ready references.
